Doris Schweizer finishes second during the 5th stage of the Vuelta. Good performance for Silvia Valsecchi as well.

A good second place for Doris, followed by Silvia in 4th place. Noemi still leads the general ranking.

BePink's athletes got two second places during the 5th and the 6th stage of the Vuelta a El Salvador. Noemi finished 2nd yesterday after a long breakaway from the group, while today the main protagonists were the young Swiss athlete Doris Schweizer and the Italian champion runner-up Silvia Valsecchi. Today's stage saw eleven athletes break away from the group early in the race, two of which were wearing BePink's jersey. During the final uphill part of the race, three girls managed to break from the small peloton: among them, Doris, who conquered a great second place. Silvia finished 4th, just barely short of the podium.

Once more, Walter Zini's athletes were the main stars of the show, another proof of the good hard work of the whole team.

Noemi still dominates the general ranking, again followed by Alena Amialiusik in second place, wearing the intermediate sprint's jersey.

Noemi also earned the mountains and points classifications jerseys.

Tomorrow, there will take place the next and last stage of this Vuelta, from Nueva Concepcion to Santa Ana.
